The index card on the bulletin board read, "Female folksinger wanted," over which I was already working days later when blonde Kathy McMillan found herself singing beneath the glow of an amber light at Sinjin's, the upstairs restaurant at the Harbor. After two months before a "mike" she formed many impressions of the kinds of folks she wanted, over which she sometimes does that which she finds entertaining will be a career, her life. She gained a reputation for student officers. No council meeting requires that an AS officer approve all of the funds, administration based activities should not be financed by the fund. LOSING BATTLE — Jerry Apodaca, campus worker, just depleted a hillside area of fast-growing weeds when the rains started with renewed “Grow Power.” (Kent Willard photo)

PUNISHMENT — Young trees on MCC’s wind-swept hilltop campus took a fearful beating during the height of the climaxing three-day storm. (staff photo)

FLOODED — Campus drains couldn’t cope with the six inches of rain that fell during one 48-hour period. This is the moat that surrounded the west side of the Library Center. (staff photo)

COLD — It is a long walk from the Communications Center to the South Student parking lot.

BASEBALL SEASON — All games canceled ... practice called off ... only seagulls in the outfield and a lonely campus worker trying to drain the flood. This is baseball un-California style as unprecedented rainstorms pelted MiraCosta for almost a month. (Staff photo)

GUESS — It could be a boy, but it was really a girl who dressed for the weather.

CLASS TIME — For the unwary who came to campus without adequate rain protection, it was a free shower sans towels. (Staff photo)

Baseball Season Opens

In the hotbed of youth and athleticism, the baseball season opens Tuesday with four games on tap next week. Playing all four on the MiraCosta diamond, the Spartans host Imperial Valley Tuesday at 2:30. Antelope Valley travels for a double-header Saturday at 12, and Palo Verde meets COD Tuesday, March 18.

The line-up of players who hope to unseat last year's champs, College of the Desert, are two San Diego Padre draft choices, Lou Hernandez and Willie Buchanan. Hernandez will head a good pitching staff and Buchanan plays both outfield and infield.

Other members of the hurling staff include Larry Krepp, Butch, Joe Watson, Bruce Stafford, and Bill Rodriguez. Returning outfielders besides pitcher Rodriguez are outfield Tom McKeever, fielder Corky Riner, and outfielders Ron Goodin, Jim Burgess, and Greg Smith.

Promising Track Team Resumes Practice; DC Relay Next Tuesday

MiraCosta's distance runner, Martin Nolasco, broke one school track record and established another for a new event last Saturday at the Long Beach Relays. Nolasco shattered the 2-mile mark of 10:45.8 with a winning 10:07.4. He also ran a 15:31.3 for the 5-mile run, a new event for MiraCosta.

High jumper Larry Hollins placed third, but made an impressive showing, jumping 6'4½", only a half inch off the school record.

Coach Thompson's crew is preparing for the Desert Conference Relays at Victor Valley March 22. "We expect to set records in every event except the javelin and shot put," stated Thompson. He also plans to have all events filled with contestants when the relay takes place.

Musician
Richie Langen Has Many Talents, Skills
By George Rioux

It has often been said that big surprises come in small packages. Richie Langen is short for basketball, but he has an amazing amount of talent crammed into his 5-10 frame.

He has just completed a great year as starting guard on MiraCosta’s surprising basketball team, sporting a fine 17.4 points game average. Any success this season he modestly attributes to “Coach “Skip” Enger, “the greatest coach I’ve ever played under.”

The fourth of seven talented children, this Wisconsin native came to Carlsbad when a little tyke and has spent most of his life in this area. Richie’s father, a Navy veteran, is a victim of muscular sclerosis, perhaps causing the closeness of the Langen family.

Richie has been playing basketball since his freshman year at Carlsbad High School. During his last two years he was starting guard on the varsity squad.

Not limited in talent to just one sport, Richie was a four-year trackman and three-year letterman in football. While in his senior year at CHS, Richie was ASB president.

Major interest of this likeable athlete is music. Richie is a self-taught student of the piano, guitar, trumpet and the string bass, his major instrument.

He began his musical training while in the second grade, when brother Dave began teaching him to play the trumpet.

He is not sure what college he will be attending next fall, but he prefers to stay in Southern California.

VERSATILE — Richie Langen is another MCC athlete who combines musical talent with body contact sports. Last year it was pianist Dave Kelly, now attending Arizona. (Kent Willard photo)

The MiraCosta basketball team finished a rain-extended season in second place of the Desert Conference with an overall 13-13-1 record after romping to a 105-83 romp over Barstow last Wednesday. The twice-postponed Antelope Valley game was never made up.

Linkmen Start vs Apaches Sat.

MiraCosta’s golf team, composed of what new head Coach “Skip” Enger calls a “fine golf squad with lots of talent,” has its first match Monday against Southwestern on the El Camino Country Club course.

The team will have both old and new faces as the Spartan golfers go after their third Desert Conference championship. Returning players are Dixie Laducto, Jerry Gahan and Bob Taylor. Barry Meisen, Mike Rostin and Pat Steen are new prospects.

An underground newspaper was submitted to the Student Senate for approval of sale on campus. The Senate must approve all publications circulated on campus.

The sponsor of this proposal is a single student, it is coincidental that the student also sells this paper. The Senate has received the issue at a later date giving members time to read the paper and decide.

Upon hearing this decision, the paper's sponsor became visibly upset and he was not able to sell any papers this week. He had brought possibly 70 papers, for the senate to examine.

Upon examination, the paper was found to be loaded with profane and obscene language. Obscenity being a matter of personal values, this is not the issue.

The Senate must decide if this publication is of the professional quality demanded by sincere college students. If all interest groups are to be represented on campus, a newstand would be needed to fulfill the request.

Why should this publication be permitted on campus when other quality periodicals are not sold.

If the Senate permits this paper on campus, it will be an insult to all the students they represent.

The sponsor was quick to point out that this periodical would be placed at Palomar College with an argument. The Chariot point out to this student that there will also be no argument, if he wishes to join his paper to the college.

In a coin flip, the paper was found to be loaded with profane and obscene language. Obscenity being a matter of personal values, this is not the issue.
